Bass Music DJ & Producer | Sardinia, IT -> Europe | 2026

BIOGRAPHY

NICCOLO MANCHINU IS FLOYER*

DJ and "computer musician" from Costa Smeralda, Sardinia, on a mission to erase the boundaries between genres.

For a generation raised on the early-2010s internet, Skrillex's "Scary Monsters and Nice Sprites" was a Pandora's Box event that permanently rewired how sound is perceived. For Niccolò, it ignited a lifelong obsession at the exact intersection of technology, video games and heavy bass. FLOYER* is the manifestation of that obsession.

Behind the decks, tension and release is the blueprint, high-octane energy the goal. FLOYER* treats every set as an open canvas where blending seemingly opposing genres becomes his sharpest weapon - from EDM, hip-hop and Latin to orchestral, dubstep and drum'n'bass - creating an unpredictable environment engineered to hit the dancefloor.

Ten years behind the decks. 100+ shows across Italy, the Netherlands and Ireland: club rotations in Groningen, nights in Amsterdam and Dublin, and a sold-out 500-cap headline at Huize Maas. Armed with a rapidly growing library of WICKED EDITS, FLOYER* is now expanding across the European circuit.

THE SOUND

WICKED EDITS

Bass music at heart, open-format by trade.

A FLOYER* set moves from peak-time open format - pop, EDM, Latin, hip-hop, Italian classics - into drum'n'bass, dubstep and trap without the floor ever noticing the seams. The fuel: WICKED EDITS, a constantly growing library of precision-engineered custom edits and blends, released as free downloads and road-tested on real crowds.
